Cigniti Signs up as a Medecision Liberation Strategic Partner

Business Wire

DALLAS -- January 20, 2021

Cigniti Technologies, a global leader in independent quality engineering and software testing services, is now a Liberation Strategic Partner with Medecision, an integrated health management company supporting virtual care and digital health for more than 50 million healthcare consumers. Through Medecision's partnership program, Cigniti is able to showcase their brand among many of the most respected leaders and enterprises in healthcare today.

Speaking on this occasion, Pradeep Govindasamy, President and CTO of Cigniti, asserted, "We are excited to start our association with Medecision as a Liberation Strategic Partner, especially during the pandemic when the need to digitally transform the healthcare sector has become a compulsion, rather than a choice. The adoption of next-gen technologies, big data analytics and business intelligence is helping virtual health achieve its goal of revolutionizing healthcare delivery by making processes more efficient and cost-effective. Cigniti's quality engineering approach and robust next-gen testing services will help our healthcare customers achieve a seamless experience. Our rich expertise and dedicated centers of excellence (CoEs) for healthcare and life sciences software testing helps address vulnerabilities and implement guidelines and best practices to ensure compliance."

Rick Koloski, Group Senior Vice President, Chief Architect, Engineering, Architecture & IT Operations at Medecision, said, "Cigniti provides Medecision with comprehensive quality assurance and software testing, ensuring that our customers are using solutions that have been thoroughly tested and will make them as successful as possible. We are pleased to welcome Cigniti as a Liberation Strategic Partner and highlight their quality work."

Medecision Liberation Strategic Partners are industry leaders that offer exceptional value through their solutions and services. This approach to connecting top companies with leading health plan and care delivery organizations helps ensure engagement on a broad spectrum across enterprises in the healthcare sector.

About Cigniti: Cigniti Technologies is a Global Leader in Independent Quality Engineering & Software Testing services.
